Join other OV Volunteers on Saturday, March 8, 2025, for the Great American Cleanup!

Won't you join Ocean Village in support of our beach and surrounding areas and pitch in to pick up litter? The Keep America Beautiful® Great American Cleanup® is the nation's largest community improvement program, which takes place annually in an estimated 15,000 community events nationwide.

Please join us on Saturday, March 8, 2025, from 11 AM- 12 Noon for the Ocean Village Beach Cleanup. We'll meet at the Community Center porch and begin our beach cleanup on Crossover #4. Register for the 2025 Great American Cleanup at: <https://www.cityoffortpierce.com/383/Great-American-Cleanup>

The Great American Cleanup prompts individuals to take greater responsibility for their local environment by conducting grassroots community service projects that engage volunteers. Our Ocean Village folks generally don't need much persuasion to help keep the Ocean Village Beach, Blue Heron Boulevard Beach, and Coconut Drive Park Beach, litter-free. We recognize that our efforts have a greater effect. We model how service and citizenship are important, that good things often require effort, and why coming together as a community nourishes the soul and feeds our collective good.

Celebrating its 27th year, the Great American Cleanup creates opportunities for millions of volunteers to have remarkable results – picking up millions of pounds of refuse, cleaning over 100,000 acres of public spaces, and eliminating debris from up to tens of thousands of miles of roadways and shorelines.

February book review, The Day the World Came to Town

The February Ocean Village Book Club discussed the award-winning non-fiction novel, The Day the World Came to Town, by Jim Defede. This book centers around the events that occurred on 9/11 in a small Canadian town in Gander, Newfoundland. You might ask, “Why Newfoundland? 9/11 is about New York City!”

Arnold Fox, our leader, quickly brought the direct correlation to 20 participants by introducing Craig Matera, an Ocean Village resident who is a retired New York City Fire Department Battalion Chief. His vivid experience managing the operation and emergency response for the eight companies under his authority with no phones working that day, hindering communications, and dealing with new fire fighters who perished on their first day of work, a multitude of technical logistics, and swift action to send firemen into burning buildings to fight the fires, save those still trapped or injured, and trying to get occupants out quickly yet safely, was traumatic. A Battalion Fire Chief’s worst nightmare happened.

Approximately 3,000 people died that day; 441 were First Responders. He told several poignant stories, one that involved John Morabito, a Firefighter, who was in the South Tower when it collapsed, trying to find his brother, Michael (also a Firefighter) who he eventually found. Craig suggested that we watch John’s story on You Tube: 911 Miracle. It is powerful.

So, this is where Author Jim DeFede’s novel begins, as Arnold provides a brief summary of what happened next. On that fateful day, there were over 4,300 flights in the air when the Federal Aviation Administration closed down all air traffic into the U.S. Pilots were told to return to their originating airport, but 38 planes were diverted to Gander, Newfoundland, a small town of ~10,000 people. This true account celebrates the human spirit and how unexpected events can bring diverse people together to provide comfort, security, and a legacy of goodwill when faced with the worst calamity.

This small community, overwhelmed by this sudden influx of people, welcomed 7,000 stranded passengers with food, clothing, emotional support, and entertainment for six days! Shelters included local schools, churches, clubs, and other facilities. Many residents invited families into their homes to shower and enjoy some solitude away from the crowded shelters. A profound connection formed between residents and passengers, illustrating the power of human compassion in a time of crisis.

Our Moderator asked if any of us had ever experienced a random act of kindness. Several shared their stories, and the conversation moved on to what impressed them most about this community stunned by a shocking arrival of 7,000 strangers (70% of their town’s population), opened their homes, hearts, and pocketbooks without a blink of an eye, hardly considering the possibility of terrorists in their midst.

At some point, one resident realized there might be pets in the planes’ cargo holds! They rounded up help to rescue these animals out of their cages, provided a safe shelter, fed and cared for them along with local veterinarians who assisted.

Striking school bus drivers dropped their picket signs to transport passengers where they needed to go. Volunteers fixed Kosher meals, sent faxes, and one man even tracked down a passenger to give her a hug from her sister who had contacted the Gander Police! Restaurants and shops provided many meals, pharmacists filled prescriptions, and local stores donated supplies.

The middle school principal opened her computer lab so people could contact their loved ones. Many residents donated their towels, bedding, clothing etc., and then did the laundry in their own homes 24/7!

After the planes were refueled, checked, and passengers were scheduled to depart, a passenger who was an employee of the Rockefeller Foundation submitted a grant for new computers for the school. After a polite refusal, the school board finally accepted the donation. Some Gander residents objected to receiving any kind of reward for doing what was right.

Author Defede suggested that what made events at Gander remarkable was that ordinary people with flaws and limitations rose to meet the challenge with extraordinary kindness, and generosity, becoming an inspiration to others. They were heroes!

Our thanks to Arnold Fox for leading such a fascinating discussion, and also our appreciation to Craig Matera for joining us to share his insightful and spot-on story of 9/11 with us. He is a hero in our midst!

By the way, did you know there was a Broadway Musical, “Come From Away,” that explores themes of love, compassion, and the power of community based on Gander, Newfoundland? The Play transcends its musical genre, offering an experience that reminds us of the power of kindness, the strength found in community, and the ability to find light in the darkest of times. The Musical won multiple awards, including a Tony Award, Olivier Awards, and Drama Desk Awards.

On March 3 we will be reading The Lincoln Highway by Amor Towle. All Ocean Village residents are welcome to attend at the Cayman Center, beginning at 1 PM.

Treasure Coast Youth Sailing Fundraiser is a Success! Thank you, Ocean Village!

On Sunday, February 23, 2025, Ocean Village did an extraordinary thing. Many owners came to Jaycee Park to learn about Treasure Coast Youth Sailing and to go sailing on the Indian River.

TCYS is a charity, affiliated with the City of Fort Pierce, that teaches young people in the area the art of sailing – a skill that introduces them to the natural world and the beauty of the Indian River Lagoon (IRL). Nearly two dozen Ocean Village owners had the chance to go out on the IRL aboard a sailboat under the watchful eye of a trained volunteer instructor. We had our own sailing camp!

The Ocean Village owners also got to meet Ernie Small, the spark plug making the TCYS school thrive. In 2021, the city was prepared to eliminate the program and knock down its buildings at Jaycee Park, which were in disrepair. Ernie and several volunteers agreed to rehabilitate the buildings and restart sailing classes.

Today, TCYS partners with the Boys and Girls Clubs, the Police Athletic League, the Courageous Kids program, and many other community service groups.

During the summer, it operates week-long sailing camps at Jaycee Park. To date, it has taught more than 400 young people how to sail, a lesson they will carry with them their entire lives. Scholarships for the one week-long camps cost $285 each, and, thanks to the generosity of Ocean Village owners, these engaged OV owners provided enough donations this year to fund more than 10 scholarships for summer 2025.

Many thanks to all who contributed to make this event a smashing success!

Another Successful Beach and Dune Committee Guest Lecture!

On Friday, February 7, 2025, at 11 AM, Dr. Zack Jud from the Florida Oceanographic Institute spoke in the Ocean Village Community Center about reptiles, amphibians, and other invasives here in our Florida region.

Dr. Jud is a marine ecologist whose research focuses on human disturbances in coastal ecosystems. He spoke to a room of over 100 interested and engaged Ocean Village owners and renters. Dr. Jud is a dynamic speaker with an in-depth knowledge of the Indian River Lagoon estuary - a system that has suffered from massive environmental degradation in recent years.

We first met Dr Jud in 2023 when he shared his knowledge of endangered sea turtles. Last year he helped us understand the immense pressure on water and soils in our area as a result of nitrates and phosphate.

He believes that it is critically important to bridge the gap between the scientific community and the public through education and outreach. To this end, he regularly gives lectures throughout Florida and has appeared in numerous documentaries, short films, and news stories.

We were delighted to have Dr. Jud join us at Ocean Village. It was an opportunity for us to learn more about the larger ecosystem in which we live here on the barrier beach of South Hutchinson Island.

Soft beverages and chips were served, and the Beach and Dune Committee awarded several door prizes to guests.

February was a great month for the Remembrance Garden. The unseasonably warm weather brought color to the garden early. Beautiful star-shaped blooms filled the Starburst Clerodendrum tree, but only the lower branches had enfolding green and purple leaves that make them look like wrapped bouquets. The lavender bloomed, and the geraniums, planted by Nance Williford, produced intense colors.

Also, good news for the garden is that the Beachtree I Board of Directors has agreed to purchase a new fountain to replace the existing one. The current fountain was donated by Betsy Crowley in memory of her first husband, Earl Holsten. With time, it has become difficult to maintain.

When it was seated, the black olive tree in the center of the patio was not much more than a sapling. It has now grown to over 20' tall, and its canopy covers the entire patio. The black olive is a tropical evergreen, which means that it is green all year and that it sheds leaves 365 days a year. A large portion of these leaves fall into the fountain, as do palm ferns, Ti seeds, etc. It also collects occasional trash. As a result, the fountain is frequently clogged on one side or the other. Volunteer Kevin Lodge uses his shop vacuum to suction out the water and debris, scrubs the fountain with a wire brush, and refills it with water and bleach. It runs well and looks good for about three days before the water again looks like coffee.

The new fountain will be urn-shaped with a closed top that will not be able to collect leaves or trash. While the Board has agreed to purchase the fountain, I assured them that Ocean Village residents who love the Remembrance Garden will aid in raising funds to purchase the decorative rocks that will cover the grate over the reservoir and the plants needed for re-landscaping the area.

In fact, my promise has already begun to be fulfilled: When volunteer Sylvia Parmelee exchanged wedding vows with Claud McMillen on Valentine's Day, members of AWOL, of which she was president, brought checks for the garden in lieu of presents. With this head start, our fundraising has begun. You, too, can participate. As with any donation to the Garden, write checks to Beachtree I Cluster, Inc. and put "Fountain Fund" in the "For: or "Memo" line.

Keeping the garden beautiful requires a lot of work. Currently, work is being led by Nancy Williford, who would welcome a helping hand. If you would like to plant, to water, to weed, to trim, or to help elsewhere, contact me, Bettie Marshall, at 772-607-1918 (can't get voice mail but can receive texts). Email bettiemarshall4@gmail.com, or find me at Beachtree I #3635. The same applies for ordering bricks. Forms are in the plastic box on the walkway or are available from me.

AWOL Members stay busy with a Social, Trivia and a Wedding!

The AWOL members had a wonderful time attending the February Social on February 12. The event was held in Aruba East and 26 members made and brought a variety of food for the main course, salads, and appetizers for dinner. The room was decorated with rose centerpieces on pink tablecloths, together with a variety of personal favors with Valentine themes.

Birthdays were acknowledged and celebrated with cupcakes and candles with the customary singing of the Birthday Song. The evening was concluded with Ruth Flanagan leading a Trivia contest. The teams were organized by the table they occupied. Trivia questions were answered enthusiastically together with lots of laughter and the two teams with the highest scores were awarded Valentine prizes. Hosts for the evening were Jan Heckenhauer and Barbara McArthur.

AWOL's most recent Past President, Sylvia Parmelee, and her fiancé, Claud McMillian, were united in marriage on Valentines Day before numerous Ocean Village guests and family. The ceremony was beautiful for the handsome couple. A reception followed immediately after the ceremony in the church social hall. Congratulations and best wishes to you both.

Tennis Rodeo Round-up

On Saturday, February 22, the tennis committee brought back an event by popular demand - the Rodeo Round-Up. Proceeds will be donated to Treasure Coast Hospice. The tennis format was mixed doubles. The weather was beautiful, and 16 teams showed up for some tough competition. The teams rotated through four rounds, utilizing a handicap system. The clear winners were Doug and Kathie Sanders. Eight teams had the same score for second place, so names were picked out of a hat to determine who would win the coveted Rodeo Round-Up towels for second and third place. Those teams were Robin Rothstein and Tom Roder, as well as Bob Zurfluh and Sue Peterson.

The evening social at the community center continued with a western theme. Sixty players and guests, many dressed in cowboy/cowgirl style, were treated to a western barbeque. After the meal, the fun kicked in...a square dance caller taught some line dancing and square dancing. This provided some great entertainment!

An army of volunteers helped to make this event so successful from the registration to the organizing of the tennis play, set up, decorating, cooking, and clean up.
